LAMPS

design Massimo Castagna 2018

This is not a simple ceiling light but a lighting system that modernizes the enchantment of hand-turned and burnished brass in a circular form. It is composed of three elements with different sizes, that can be hung at different heights or, by adjusting the three steel cables that support them, they can be tilted to vary the intensity of the diffused LED lighting. Another option is to use just one single element to create an eye-catchingly suggestive decorative effect.
